EMPLOYEES REFUSED TO WORK

When the Whistles of the Westinghouse Factory Sounded Today

3,000 WORKMEN STRIKE

Claim Company Has Been Discharging Men for Joining Labor Organizations—No Disorder Reported During the Day.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
Pittsburg, Pa., June 5.—Declaring that they would not return to their places in the factories of the Westinghouse Electric and Manufacturing company, and the Westinghouse Machine company until working conditions were improved, approximately 3,000 men and women, members of the Allegheny Congenial Industrial Union, struck here today. Three thousand electric workers refused to leave the shops this morning, and after a mass meeting at the Turtle Creek playground the number was increased by men who later left the plant. Pickets were sent to the Machine works and brought out almost a thousand workers and leaders of the strikers, say there would be ten thousand idle factory hands in the Turtle Creek Valley by night fall. Several hundred girls, each with a tin horn, paraded through East Pittsburg, cheered by crowds of strikers on the sidewalk.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
Pittsburg, June 5.—Approximately 3,000 men and women, employed by the Westinghouse Electric and Manufacturing company, refused to go to work this morning when the whistles at the East Pittsburg factory sounded at seven o'clock. They formed in line and marched to the playgrounds at Turtle Creek, a mile away, where the leaders said they would discuss their grievance. Announcement of the strike was made late yesterday by representatives of the Allegheny Congenial Industrial Union, who declare the company had been steadily discharging men for no other reason than that they had joined the organization which had been formed early in the year for the purpose of securing "better working conditions." They also announced that employees of the Westinghouse Machine company and the Pittsburg Meter company corporations whose plants are in that vicinity, would also be called upon to strike. Many employees however entered the electrical company's factory preparatory to beginning the day's work. A strikers committee of twenty-five immediately gained entrance to the plant determined, they said, to bring out those who had gone to work. There was no disorder, the strikers, marching to the Turtle Creek playgrounds admonished by their leaders to be quiet. The strike at the plants of the Machine company and the Meter works were scheduled for eight o'clock when the forces there report for duty.

Hopes That Strike of Ohio Miners Would Be Settled Are Blasted

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
Columbus, O., June 5.—Hopes that the strike of the 4,500 miners of Ohio, would be settled as a result of a joint conference which has been in session here for the past three days were blasted at noon today when the sub-committee of twelve miners and as many operators reported disagreement. President John Moore of the Ohio Miners predicted that the joint conference would adjourn within twenty minutes after it is called to order this afternoon. Both operators' and miners' representatives in the conference committee which began two days ago, said after disagreement was reported today, that neither side had budged materially in its original demand. Miners demanded a wage scale on a mine run basis of 71 and 49.46 cents and operators wanted to renew the old contract, which was on a lump coal basis. "I think we will get together sometime," said President Moore. "But it seems there is absolutely no chance for a settlement at this conference. We believe our demands are just and the operators believed with evident sincerity that they cannot afford to pay our prices. The decision to report a disagreement was unanimous. President Moore said the district organization will arrange to make another payment of strike benefits soon, if the strike continues. The district treasury now has almost no funds, however. Many operators after the committee meeting had adjourned were in long distance communication with their companies' offices. Informal meetings of both operators and miners were held before the convening of the joint conference. Governor Cox, when informed of the committee's disagreement, said he thought the convention would not adjourn today without some kind of settlement. He said he has nothing to propose which might help to continue negotiations, however. Since he arranged this conference by bringing miners and operators several weeks ago, he has kept in close touch with the general miners wage situation through John M. Roan, state mining commissioner.

Despondent Over Loss of Leg And Unable to Obtain Work, Carter Attempts Suicide

Roland Carter, 40, formerly an employee of the vogue-meister Transfer Line, attempted to take his life by taking bichloride of mercury tablets on Thursday evening. Mr. Carter lives in South Fourth street and has been despondent for some time. About a year ago he met with a serious accident. In driving a cab he attempted to make one of the railroad crossings, and was caught by a train. The cab was demolished and the horses injured and he was so seriously hurt that it was found necessary to amputate one leg.

Not being able to fill any regular position since, and being in ill health, he is thought to have been the cause for attempting his life on Thursday. He took three tablets of seven grains each. Dr. P. H. Cosher was called and every effort was made to save his life, and he will probably recover. The tablets were kept by Mrs. Carter in a bureau drawer and were a part of some that she had been using to dissolve in water to make an antiseptic wash for her husband's injured leg.

NO ABATEMENT OF STORM ALONG PACIFIC COAST

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
San Francisco, Calif., June 5.—No abatement had been reported early today of the storm which has swept the entire coast for the last 48 hours. More than twenty-five northbound vessels from this port were having difficulty in making headway against the northwest gale which at times reached a velocity of more than 80 miles an hour. Radio messages from several vessels said their passengers were suffering all the discomforts of a winter hurricane. Life saving stations between San Francisco and Puget Sound have been instructed to keep a sharp lookout for any craft that might become disabled.

MILLION PESOS LEVIED UPON THE SPANIARDS

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
On Board U. S. S. California, Mazatlan, Mex., June 4 (by wireless to San Diego, Calif., June 5).—A loan of one million pesos has been levied by the constitutionalists in possession of the city of Tepic upon Spanish residents, according to information that reached Mazatlan today. It was said that all Spaniards had been notified to leave Tepic by June 6. Desertions from the federal forces defending Mazatlan continue. F. Finger, representing the United Sugar Company, has arranged with General Iturbe, commanding the constitutionalist forces besieging Mazatlan, for the return of the cargo of sugar taken from the schooner Garibaldi, which fell into their hands when she went ashore on Piedras Island in the harbor last Sunday.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
London, June 5.—Six thousand sovereigns, the largest sum of gold ever deposited to insure a glove fight were posted in the offices of the sportsman this afternoon for the approaching match between "Jack" Johnson and "Sam" Langford. The cash was handed over by Gerrard Austin, representing the syndicate promoting the fight. He was accompanied by a bodyguard of commissionaires in uniform who closely guarded six bags each containing 1,000 sovereigns. The money represents Johnson's share, win or lose or draw. The fight probably will take place in London in September or October.

VILLAGE REPORTED AS QUIET

But Sheriff Doyle Is Marshaling Deputies at Tarrytown

BERKMAN WAGING FIGHT

For Right to Hold Public Meetings in Protest of Policy Pursued by Rockefeller, Jr., in Colorado Mine Strike.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
Tarrytown, N. Y., June 5.—Renewed efforts on the part of the local police department and the officers of Sheriff Doyle of Westchester county, to maintain the peace of this village marked the close today of the first week of the fight being waged by Alexander Berkman, and others, for the right to hold public meetings in protest of the policy pursued by John D. Rockefeller, Jr., with reference to the Colorado mine strike. While Berkman was in Brooklyn and New York in search of recruits for an army which he declares will invade Tarrytown tomorrow to hold a demonstration, Sheriff Doyle was marshaling in a force capable of handling a crowd of 200 persons and, if possible, prevent a recurrence of last Sunday's when thirteen Industrial Workers of the World members, were arrested. In an announcement made public today Judge Morehouse declared that Berkman would not be permitted in his court tomorrow when the twelve remaining prisoners are brought before him for arraignment. One of the original thirteen, deserted the cause of free speech yesterday and was released under a suspended sentence of six months in the penitentiary. It is expected that an effort will be made before tomorrow to have the cases of the twelve prisoners conducted by the grand jury. Rev. J. E. Cates, whose invitation to Berkman to debate with him the Rockefeller issues, which was withdrawn at the request of other ministers of the village, has announced that he has accepted Berkman's proposal to hold the debate in the near future in New York.

W. N. FULTON HAS EARNED FINAL REST

Summoned Thursday Evening at His Home in North Fifth Street—His Was Busy, Active Life, Worthy of Emulation.

After several weeks illness with angina pectoris, Mr. W. N. Fulton, a retired banker and one of the best known citizens of Licking county, died at his home, 100 North Fifth street about 9:45 Thursday night. While his health had been precarious, and his death had seemed only a matter of a short time, it came nevertheless as a distinct shock, for on Thursday he had appeared to rally, after having suffered a collapse Wednesday. Thursday evening he had finished supper, and was sitting in a chair in the library talking to members of the family. Suddenly he was seen to pitch forward, gasp for breath, and a sudden twitching of muscles gave warning that his condition was critical. He was gotten to bed and Dr. J. A. Mitchell was called, but death had sealed his useful life and he passed peacefully away, surrounded by his loved ones for whom he had (Continued on Page 15, Col. 3.)

Dynamite Found Under Secretary Houston's Office

The building of the Agricultural Department in Washington was thrown into excitement late Tuesday afternoon by the discovery of five sticks of dynamite in a room immediately under the office of Secretary David F. Houston. A watchman, after being placed under arrest by the Washington police, confessed that he had put the dynamite in the room in order to pose as a hero. After he left it he ran screaming through the building that he had found a bomb.

Ledyard Objects to the Statement of Mellen in New Haven Investigation

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
Washington, June 5.—Lewis Cass Ledyard, concluded his statement today in connection with the New Haven investigation before the I. C. C. committee. J. W. H. Crim, attorney for former President Mellen, read into the record Mr. Mellen's much discussed letter to former U. S. Attorney Wise at New York, assuming responsibility for the Grand Trunk deal under which Mellen was indicted. Mellen testified he took the responsibility to shield the late J. Pierpont Morgan. Mr. Ledyard vigorously contradicted that contention. Mr. Crim merely read the letter and asked Mr. Ledyard if it accorded with his recollection and Mr. Ledyard replied that it did. Mr. Ledyard told of Mr. Mellen telling him that he had heard of some conferences Mr. Morgan had had with officials of the Grand Trunk and asked him to inquire of Mr. Morgan if he was worried about Grand Trunk matters. "I asked Mr. Morgan if he was worried about Grand Trunk affairs and he said 'Not a bit'."

"Did you have anything to do with Mr. Mellen's defense, or advise him any further?" "I did not." "Do you understand anything you say may be used against you?" asked Mr. Folk. "Oh, yes." "Your relations with Mr. Morgan were quite intimate. You made vacation trips with him and you drew his will and were made one of his executors?" "That is correct." Mr. Ledyard said he often opposed Mr. Morgan and had done so in the New Haven board. "Did you oppose him enough to make him mad?" "I never hesitated to tell him plainly what I thought." "Were the Connecticut directors largely dummies?" Mr. Folk asked. "I should not say that," Mr. Ledyard replied. "Mr. Mellen certainly was not a dummy. Charles F. Brooks was not. Mr. Brush was a most aggressive and obstinate old man. Mr. Whittemore was an able man of large interests. Mr. Frank Brewster was a young and energetic man. Henry K. McHarg was a man of large interests." "What about Mr. Billard?" "He was practically a stranger to me. He attended the meetings regularly but I do not recall his saying much." George F. Baker, Mr. Ledyard said, had not been particularly active during the time he Mr. Ledyard was on the board. Mr. Ledyard said J. Pierpont Morgan, Jr. was not there during his membership. Judge Beaton Robertson, he stated, was prominent in politics and a man of high standing.

Condition at Pumping Station, Unsatisfactory Since Pipe Was Washed Away, Being Repaired

Conditions at the municipal water works pumping station, which have been in an unsatisfactory condition for some time past, are being bettered just as rapidly as it is possible, according to Service Director William C. Christian, who was asked about the matter Friday. He gave an account of what led up to the state of affairs and the means taken to remedy it as follows: "Some time last summer the pipe line of the old water works, crossing the creek from the pumping station to the reservoir, sprung a leak and I never did get the straight of what caused it. At any rate it was repaired in a manner far from satisfactory. The 16-inch pipes were raised at the joints and leaded while in this position, and afterward rip rap stone was placed under them. "When the high waters came last November, they washed this rip rap away, allowing the line to sverve laterally, and fall into the creek bed and the whole was soon swept away, the line first separating on the east side of the creek. "This was left in this condition until I received special authority from the council to purchase enough universal pipe without advertising for it, to repair the line, and the pipe is now here and the work will be done next week. "The reservoir has been practically empty since the line was washed lect.

away, that is broken below the outlet line, and the stagnant water left has been exposed and become very unsanitary. Before filling the reservoir it will be thoroughly cleaned out and put in good condition, for the first time in many years. "When the reservoir is filled there will be 3,000,000 gallons of water behind the pumps to keep the pressure even at all times and will re-enforce the supply for any emergency. Even if a breakdown in the machinery should occur, the reservoir alone would give a continuous pressure for thirty hours. The condition as it has existed has been precarious in case of a big fire, but fortunately we have not been called upon to meet such an emergency but I will breathe freer when the work is completed. "Since the hot weather has come for a couple of hours each evening when much sprinkling is done the pumps running at full capacity can only supply a partial pressure but all this will be done away with next week."

IN CRITICAL CONDITION.
Mr. William Davis, who suffered a stroke of paralysis while at work Monday is still in a critical condition at his home 382 1-2 West Main street. The best way to spoil a good salesman is to give him some bills to collect.

AWAITING CARRANZA'S DECISION

Will Be Made Known in Several Days After He Reaches Saltillo

AGENTS OF CHIEFTAIN

Urged by Administration Officials to Recommend a Favorable Reply be Sent the South American Envoys at Niagara.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
Washington, June 5.—Carranza's statement that he would not reply to the last note of the South American envoys until he reached Saltillo from Durango, confirmed the belief of administration officials today that the constitutionalists' final attitude toward entering the Niagara conference would not be known for three or four days. Optimism expressed at Niagara Falls that Carranza would decide to take part in the proceedings was reflected here. The statement of Rafael Zubaran, the constitutionalist chief representative in Washington, attracted wide attention. "Affairs are getting better," he said. When asked directly as to the likelihood of Carranza's participation in the conference he said he did not expect, however, to receive an answer from his chief before late Saturday or Sunday. Meanwhile, officials of the administration continued their conferences with Carranza's agents, urging them to recommend that a favorable reply be sent to the mediators. While word was awaited, officials of the state and navy departments were occupied with plans for meeting any trying situation that might arise at Tampico through efforts of Huerta to establish a blockade to all shipment of arms for Carranza. It had been reported that Federal gunboats had been ordered to Tampico. Shipments of arms for Carranza that left New Orleans and Galveston were likely to reach their destinations, unmolested, it was believed here today. While orders had been issued to prevent the clearance of vessels carrying arms for any Mexican port, yet two steamers sailed with a war cargo through failure of the state department instructions to reach proper officials in time. Whether the American government might stop those shipments at Tampico was a question upon which no definite official light had been thrown today.

ESCAPED DEATH AT HANDS OF A MEXICAN MOB

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
Oakland, Calif., June 5.—A dramatic recitation of the escape of himself and wife from death by a Mexican mob in Monterey, Coahuila, Mexico, was given here last night by John C. Allen, Deputy United States Consul at Monterey. Allen said he and his wife withstood a four day siege behind the stone wall of a crude Mexican hut in Monterey after the receipt of the news of the American occupation of Vera Cruz, while a frenzied mob surged outside crying "Death to the Gringos." "We lived a life time in those four days," said Allen. "The mob was crazy with hatred and if they could have broken into the stone house we should have been killed. My wife made me promise to kill her and then, end my own life if they broke through our barriers. I had no firearms, nothing, but a butcher knife, but I got it ready, for I should never have allowed her to fall into their hands alive." At the end of the fourth day the federal troops were driven out by the constitutionalists army under Gen. Gonzales and the Allen's left their "Fortress" in safety.

NO MEETING OF ENVOYS BEING HELD TODAY

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
Niagara Falls, June 5.—The general attitude here in regard to the expected reply from General Carranza, chief of the constitutionalists cause in Mexico, to the note South Americans sent here last Tuesday through his representatives in Washington is a mixture of doubt and hope. In some quarters there was more or less skepticism manifested. It was evident some believed Carranza's response would be negative but it was hoped it would leave open the door for continued correspondence. Semi-official statements in regard to the attitude of Carranza toward the mediation proceedings indicated it is not ready to accept unreservedly the offer of good offices renewed by the mediators. ## RELIEF FROM DYSPEPSIA

All conditions of depressed vitality tend to disturb the processes of digestion. There is not a disturbed condition of life that may not affect digestion.

Few causes of indigestion are so common as thin, weak blood. It affects directly and at once the great processes of nutrition. Not only is the action of the gastric and intestinal glands diminished but the muscular action of the stomach is weakened. Nothing will more promptly restore the digestive efficiency than good red blood. Without it the normal activity of the stomach is impossible.

Thin, pale people who complain of indigestion must improve the condition of their blood to find relief. The most active blood-builder in such cases is Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. They make rich, red blood which quickly restores the digestive organs to their proper activity and the first result is hunger. The dyspeptic who has hated the sight and smell of food now looks forward to meal time with pleasurable anticipation. Care now in the selection and quantity of food will put the patient well on the road to a diet book, "What to Eat and How to Eat," will be sent free on request to the Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Schenectady, N. Y. All druggists sell Dr. Williams' Pink Pills.

In the vault of the Home Building Association. The package of answers will be opened by the judges, June 11.

Love of Gossip.

One of the chief characteristics of the human race isquisitiveness—not so much about things and places and ideas as about each other. Every proper person is a born gossip, and the accomplished scandal monger is always welcome, provided, of course, his scandal is about others. You can test this at any time by considering who are the people you like best to meet and who are always surrounded by the greatest number of idle acquaintances. Invariably you must be forced to the conclusion they are those who have made a business of acquiring information about others and retelling their knowledge in various dressings. This love of gossip is further revealed in the kind of books which claim the widest appreciation. You will find that these books are not poetry, drama, science or philosophy. They are novels, memoirs, diaries, intimate histories, recollections, letters—all of them essential gossip (and sometimes scandal) appearing by their power to attract the gossiping social which exists in all of us. ### The Effort of His Life a Failure.

W. S. Gilbert had a novel experience before he wrote for the stage, when he was a barrister waiting for his first brief. It was long in coming, and when it did come Mr. Gilbert determined, of course, to make the effort of his life.

He was intrusted with the prosecution of an old Irish woman for stealing a coat, and when he began the speech that he had prepared and rehearsed so carefully the old dame at once began to interject: "Oh, ye divil! Sit down!" "Sure, now, he's a liar, yer honor!" "Sit down, ye spalpeen!" "He's known to all the perlice, yer honor!" After some minutes of this abuse Gilbert asked the recorder's intervention, but that official was too busy laughing. So the effort of his life was not a success.

HAND BADLY BURNED BY A TROLLEY WIRE

While working on the top of his car Conductor Cary Stevenson, on the Ohio Electric city lines seriously burned his hands when he caught hold of a trolley wire Friday morning.

The car was backing on the cross switch at the intersection of West Main street near West Park Place, and Conductor Stevenson was working on top of the car. He accidentally caught hold of the trolley wire and the trolley pole at the same time and the inside of both of his hands was seriously burned. Dr. J. T. Harbottle was called and dressed the injuries and he was taken to his home in West Main street.

"Trade is vulgar," said the impatient aristocrat. "I suppose that is why you never pay your bills," suggested the mere man.

AND HE DID!

AND HE DID!

FRANK I. CAINE PASSED AWAY IN CITY HOSPITAL

Frank I. Caine, aged 28, who suffered the loss of his left foot, and sustained other injuries, when he fell from a Pennsylvania freight train near the Wehrle plant Tuesday afternoon, died in the City hospital at 2:10 o'clock Friday morning.

The body was removed to Criss Bros. undertaking parlors and prepared for shipment to Somerset, O., where the funeral will take place Monday afternoon. A short service will be held in the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Samuel A. Caine, 226 Elmwood avenue, Sunday afternoon.

Mr. Caine was born in Somerset and came to Newark with his parents and family ten years ago. For several years he was employed at the plant of the American Bottle company, where he was popular among all his associates.

Surviving are his parents, one brother, Jay, and four sisters, Mrs. Lulu Lockwood, and the Misses Caroline, Cora and Annabel Caine, all of Newark.

GLASS PAVILION IDEAL PLACE FOR SUMMER DANCERS

There seems to be some rumor that the new Glass dancing pavilion at Buckeye Lake is unsafe, but the pier is modeled after those used at all the larger summer resorts and was constructed under the supervision of John I. Miller state superintendent of public works.

The combination pier and pavilion is one of the finest of its kind and Jack Selge, was the chief constructing engineer, working under the supervision of Mr. Miller. One hundred and sixty-two piles were driven under the floor and it is built to hold 2,000,000 pounds. The contractors were Holbrook and Dawson, who have erected piers at Toledo, Meyers Lake, Canton, and other summer resorts in Ohio.

The pier is ideal as to location and the floor is perfect for dancing, and a profitable season is prophesied.

SUFFRAGETTES SUSPICIONED OF BURNING CHURCH

Derby, England, June 5.—The ancient and historic church at Broad-sall, dating back to Norman times, and containing many priceless relics, was destroyed by fire during the night. Suffragettes are suspected, by the authorities as explosions similar to those caused by the bombs usually employed by the arson squad were heard before the fire. A short time ago a suffragette meeting in the village of Broad-sall was broken up by boys, and it is generally supposed that the women burned the church in revenge. Among the things consumed by the flames was an ancient chained Bible. The church register, dating back to 1375 was saved.

DIABETIC GANGRENE.

When gangrene appears in Diabetes, it is commonly looked upon as the beginning of the end, but that such cases have gotten results is a matter of evidence. Here's another—

Patient Wm. H. McGowan, machinist, S. P. R. R. shops, Sparks, Nevada. In June, 1913, was in bed with Diabetes with gangrene, one-half of one toe having been eaten off. Fulton's Diabetic Compound was administered with an antiseptic lotion to cleanse the wound.

On January 10th, 1914, patient reported—"My foot has healed. Am working every day and getting around as well as ever. I don't think I have any more Diabetes."

Candidate for Governor.

One of the group of Republicans who is seeking the nomination for Governor is David Tod, of Youngstown. In the mills he owns there the workmen are protected by the State compensation act. At a meeting at Akron a delegation of these workers vigorously hissed William H. Boyd, a Cleveland lawyer, for attacking that beneficent instrument. In a recent speech at Cleveland Mr. Tod, who approved the action of the General Assembly in enacting the measure, launched an attack upon Governor Cox for interposing an objection to the effort of the liability insurance companies to invoke a fraudulent referendum upon it declaring that his action constituted a "dangerous centralization of power." It would seem that, as a politician, the Youngstown candidate fills the description of a good party man as laid down by the late Colonel Isaac R. Hill, of this county, who said that he should be able to shift so quick that his pistol pocket would be in front. Mr. Tod did not want the referendum; his workmen did not want the referendum; nobody wanted the referendum in fact but the liability insurance companies and they only for the purpose of killing the law. They spent, according to reliable rumor, upward of $75,000 to convict, forgers, ward workers and other species of human parasites for fictitious names, the rejection of which was approved by the courts. If the saying is true that politics make strange bed-fellows then Mr. Tod is now tucked in a downy couch with that quasi-criminal organization popularly known as the Ohio Iniquity Association, of Cleveland, though indeed, it calls itself for no understandable reason, the Ohio Equity Association.

In the Right Direction.

Here are two fiscal reports by Ohio. The older one is a mess. It consists mainly of a great mass of unexplained and unintelligible details. Every petty transaction is set forth and the essential facts about the State's condition are buried in a maze of figures. The State's fiscal year ends November fifteenth; but the preparation and publication of remain in the company of their own people. One is rarely contented unless there are others speaking the same tongue near by.

The Department of Agriculture ought not to look at this as any mere temporary problem of harvesting the present crop of wheat and corn. It is a situation that the farmer finds more and more difficult to meet, and one that calls for thoughtful and practical study.

By the Way

When a boy grows up he is greatly surprised to find he has stopped wanting things he felt he couldn't get along without.

It is true that most of those in society are uninteresting. But so, for that matter, are most of those who are not in society.

Briefly defined, a gentleman is one who doesn't deem it necessary to mention the fact.

In the Ebenezer Haywood family the fame is about equally divided. Mrs. Haywood runs the best boarding-house in town and Mr. Haywood is considered our best Shakespearian scholar.

The rule is that it is the man with a prominent Adam's apple who wears a collar two sizes too large for his neck.

By the time a man accumulates money he usually is too old to enjoy it.

The only way you can shock some people is by spending money recklessly.

Among those "also present" is the June bridegroom!

If the pages of the Congressional Record were only the proper size to put on the pantry shelves, there would not be so much kicking about printing Senator La Follette's 328 page speech at public expense.

Just because there is plenty of room at the top is no reason why we shouldn't try to get at the bottom of things.

It is doubtful if the life insurance companies would refuse to issue a policy on a man merely because he had committed murder in New York state.

It can't be much of any job for the teachers to hear school recitations on circus day.

Why is it that the Newark chickens always like to go visiting?

Readers' View Point

The Advocate assumes no responsibility for the opinions expressed in the column headed "Readers' View-point." Communications from our readers should be short, plainly written and should be signed though the signature will not be printed if it is so requested. These communications should be upon subjects in which there is general interest and they must be free from abuse or extravagant statements that tend to provoke controversy.

Editor Advocate: In reading the editorial in the Advocate of Tuesday I am glad to see the stand councilman Seward takes in regard to the spending of the public's money for the city's improvement. The city is bonded now up to or past the limit allowed by law, then why are they still allowed to issue bonds for every thing they think they want to improve? I am in favor of improvements in the city but not at the rate the present officials are speeding along for many of the residents on these improved streets cannot pay these assessments without great hardship as money is not so easily obtained as these officials may suppose. I pay as much tax in the city as the average tax payer and I know that money is not easily obtained so I would be like Councilman Seward. Gentlemen there is a limit also do as you would wish to be done by is my motto.

HEALTH HINT FOR TODAY.

Danger of Sore Eyes.
Persons with sore eyes, especially if there is a discharge, should be careful not to transmit the disease. The towels they use should be kept entirely apart from the ones used by others and care taken with the materials used for dressing or treating the sore eyes in order not to infect others.

All persons should bear in mind the possibility of infecting them with their hands when they are handling unclean or infectious material of any kind, especially clothing or anything of a personal nature which has been in contact with diseased persons. Some diseased people cause dangerous diseases in their own eyes in this way.

Workmen engaged in occupations which endanger the eyes should employ protective measures. Eye protectors, such as goggles or plain glass spectacles, should be worn to protect the eyes from injury from foreign bodies, such as chips of steel, emery dust, etc., where the machinery or implements in use are not provided with eye protective devices. No injury to the eye, however slight, is a trifling matter.

A physician is the person to remove a foreign body from the eye when it cannot be removed by simple measures, as by rubbing the other eye, wetting a corner of a clean handkerchief and wiping it out or taking hold of the eyelashes or the upper lid of the affected eye and pulling it down over the lower lid.

Clothes demonstrate that people will pay to be uncomfortable.

Into the Sunlight.

Oh, cut out the vain repining, cease thinking of dole and doom! Come out where the sun is shining, come out of the cave of gloom! Come out of your hole and borrow a package of joy from me, and say to your secret sorrow, "I've no longer use for thee!" For troubles, which are deluding, are timorous beasts; I say; they stick to the gent who's brooding, and flee from the gent who's gay. The gateways of Eldorado are open, all o'er the earth; come out of the House of Shadows, and dwell in the House of Mirth. From Boston to far Boucaygeon the banners of gladness float; oh, grief is a rank contagion, and mirth is the antidote. And most of our woes would perish, or leave us, on sable wings, if only we didn't cherish and coddle the blame fool things. Long since would your woes have scampered away to their native fogs, but they have been fed and pampered like poodles or hairless dogs. And all of these facts should teach you it's wise to be bright and gay; come out where the breeze can reach you, and blow all your grief away.

AGRICULTURAL EXTENSION WORK IN HIGH SCHOOLS.
During the past winter and spring the Extension Department of the College of Agriculture, Ohio State University has given instruction in the high schools of Union, Logan, Wood, Seneca, Medina, Stark, Summit, Washington, and Morgan counties. The general plan of the work was for the instructor to visit the high schools which signified their desire for such instruction. The talks were especially adapted to high school pupils. Such subjects as corn or milk were discussed in school hours during the day, while "Better Home Surroundings" or "Better Schools" were given attention at the night meetings. H. E. Eswine is the instructor for this work. His report shows in an excellent way the success of such meetings. He visited 70 schools at which 135 talks were given. In addition, 35 night meetings were held. The total attendance for both was more than 8,500. At all places, a plea was made for a course of study better fitted to the needs of the country boys and girls. This gave opportunity to say something about the value of the study of agriculture and domestic science.

American Polo Team Ready to Meet the Britishers.

The American Polo Association has selected three old players in international contests to meet the British Polo team at Meadow Brook, and one who has never played in such a contest.

The two Waterburys and Milburn have had international experience. La Montagne, though he has not been in such a contest, has been in many important matches in the United States and is considered a seasoned player capable of meeting the Britishers.

The Polo matches at Meadow Brook, Long Island, will attract many thousands. Society from many cities, will, of course, be there in force. But society could not furnish more than one-fifth of the audience for which provision has been made.

ATHLETES

TODAY TRAVEL THOUSANDS OF MILES AT ENORMOUS EXPENSE FOR CONTESTS.

Colleges Send Crews and Track Teams to Far Fields to Get Advertising.

New York, June 5.—In the athletic calendar the present month might aptly be termed the month of travel since it is the period of the year at which the movement of amateur sport teams and competitors is at its maximum. No better illustration of the remarkable growth of international and international competition can be cited than is shown in the thousands of miles of land and water covered by entrants journeying the central points for competition in a score of more different sports. Several decades ago a trip of a few hundred miles for the purpose of entering a sport event was a mile stone in the life of an amateur competitor. So rapidly have conditions changed in recent years, however, that the average member of a school team sees nothing unusual in such a tour of conquest. Since then the elder brothers travel thousands of miles for the purpose of competing in a boat race, track meet or baseball series the schoolboy, with his modern athletic ideals, views his little journey of two or three hundred miles in the same light that his grandfather planned to cross a city or township for a baseball game in the long ago.

That the picture is not overdrawn is proved by the fact that many college or club combinations as well as private competitors are today speeding over long stretches of rail or water and the same situation has prevailed for several weeks and will continue throughout the month of June. Beginning with the college teams it is possible to gauge the present "varsity athletic activity" with a few striking examples. The University of California track and field squad, consisting of a dozen of the best athletes of the Pacific Coast are today on the homeward swing of a 7,000 mile circuit after competing in the intercollegiate track meet at Harvard's stadium at Cambridge on Saturday. Long before these spike-shoe athletes reach Berkeley, Cal. the University of Washington eight oared crew will be journeying across the continent from Seattle to Poughkeepsie for the Intercollegiate Regatta at which the college rowing championship of the United States is decided. Twelve oarsmen and Coach Conibear will comprise the squad which will travel more than 6,000 miles for the purpose of meeting the best crews of the east and middle west for rowing supremacy. The trip will cost at least $4,000 and the transportation of a sixty odd foot racing shell is not the least of the problems of Conibear and his crew captain. The case of the University of Wisconsin crew is a parallel one with the exception that the Badgers travel but one-half the distance that the Washington oarsmen must cover.

The crewmen are not the only athletes to make transcontinental tours, however, for Leland Stanford University is sending the best members of its track team to the Conference meet in Chicago in addition to competing at several other sectional meets enroute. Even the tennis players come in for similar jaunts for Stanford, Michigan and several other racquet wielding teams are now playing on courts far from home. Neither is the travel restricted to this country, for foreign tours are almost as popular as those made within the limits of the states. The Union Boat Club of Boston is sending to the English Henley an eight-oared crew consisting of former Harvard oarsmen; the presence of American golfers at the English amateur title tournament made that event an international competition; American club and college track stars will compete as individuals in the leading athletic meets of England and the continent this summer and one list might be continued with many an added illustration of the spirit of the American sports competitor to seek new fields to conquer.

VAPOR TREATMENTS FOR COLD TROUBLES

Are now used in all hospitals. The vapors carry the medication to the lungs and air passages without disturbing the stomach. When Vick's "Vap-O-Rub" Croup and Pneumonia Salve is applied over the throat and chest, these vapors—of Menthol, Thymol, Eucalyptol, Camphor, and Pine Tar—are released by the heat of the body. Usually the worst colds go in one night—croup in fifteen minutes. Vick's is fine for head cold, asthma, and catarrh, and is absolutely harmless. Three sizes—from 25c up.

L. O. Ludwig, of Houlton, Me., owns a curious pistol which was taken from the famous pirate Tonsant Mon Hassan by an officer of the United States frigate which captured the pirate in Malacca Straits 1820. In the same collection is a blunderbuss believed to be more than 200 years old.

But if you have only a half-hearted resolution to get along without a new Summer Suit, just remember that you are saving $15 in five months and a half—or saving money at the rate of about eight cents a day. And that does not take into consideration the fact that you cannot wear the Suit out in that time.

Get The New Suit Now

Get the good season's wear out of it. Fifteen dollars is the price of a good, serviceable Summer Suit made to order now, that stands the wear, the rains, the perspiration and the broiling sun. Our Suits hold their shape because we shrink all goods before making them up. Then, the good woolsens we handle are the fadeless kind. We put these made-to-order Suits at $15 against the work of any tailor in town at $22, and then the other man won't get the character in his suit, because he can't afford to hire such high-grade tailors as we do. He doesn't do enough business to warrant it. He doesn't sell enough goods to keep them busy, except at intervals. ## British Team of Polo Players Who Will Try to Lift the Cup.

MAJOR BARRETT

CAPT. CHEAPE

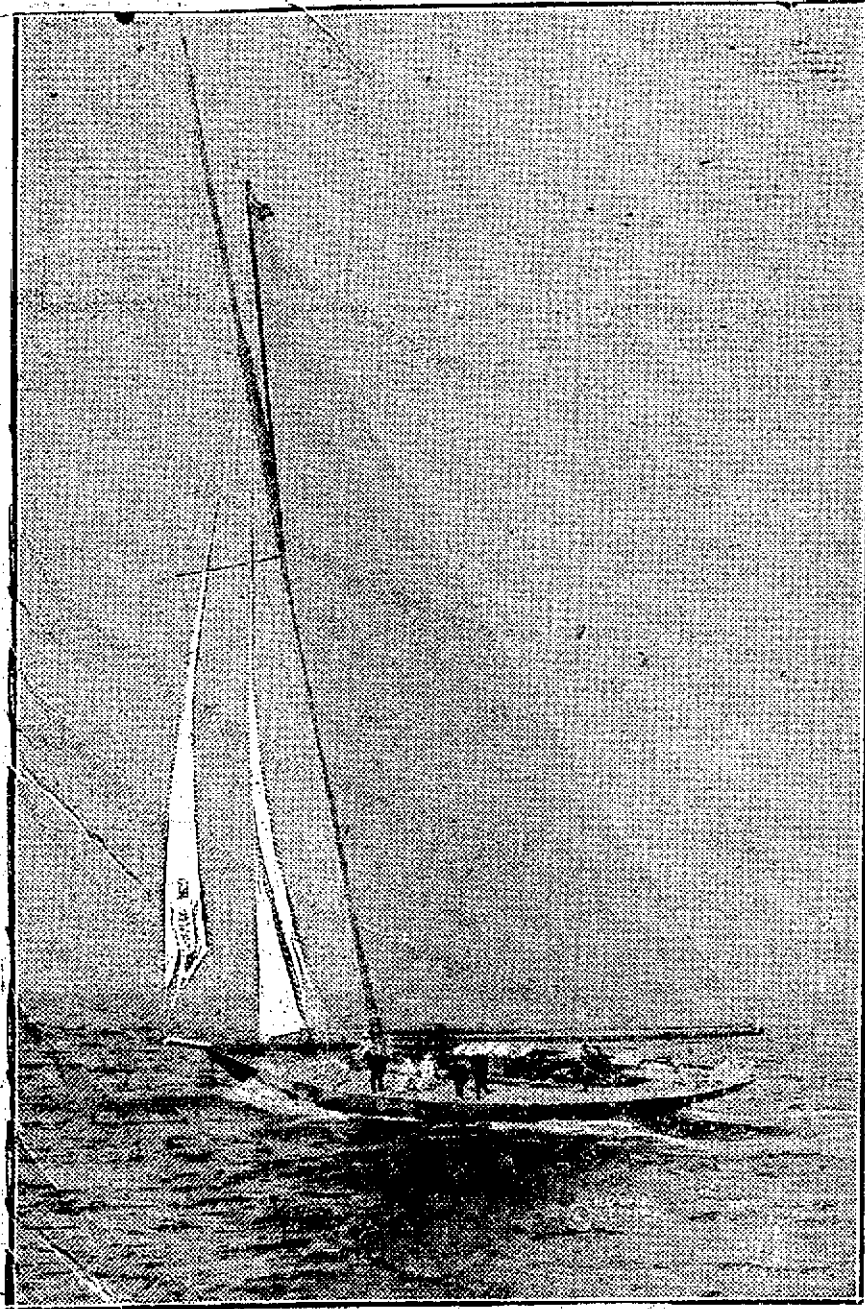

JOHN TRAILL

CAPT. TOMPKINSON

The make-up of the British polo team which will meet the Americans at Meadow Brook, Long Island, has been announced, and the names have not served to frighten the members of the home team. There has been much speculation as to whether or not the team is as strong as that of last year. Many dissensions arose just before the team sailed from England, and it was said that some of the best players were not selected by Lord Wimborne, the financial backer of the enterprise. Since he put up the money to pre-trip—and it costs a fortune to prepare for an international match—he picked the members. If he loses there will be much criticism of his selections.

Vanitie, In Lead, Stops To Pick Up Drowning Sailors and Resolute Wins

THE VANITIE.

Rye, N. Y., June 5.—The third race of the initial series for the America's cup defense candidate yachts was won off here on Long Island Sound Thursday by the flag officer's sloop, Resolute, after the Vanitie withdrew while in the lead in order to assist in the rescue of 2 of her seamen who had been washed overboard during the first leg of the race.

Once the Gardner-designed single sticker dropped out of the race, the Resolute was assured of a hollow victory and the contest originally planned to be an 18 mile race, was shortened half that distance and the Herreshoff craft crossed the finish line 53 minutes and 41 seconds after the start. By winning yesterday's race, the Resolute went into the lead in the aquatic struggle with the Vanitie, having won two out of the series of three matches begun Tuesday. The yachts, will renew the contest Saturday, when the Larchmont Yacht Club will act as host to the two sloops.

The Vanitie, because of the clever work of Captain Dennis at the start, was well in the lead and fairly scudding along with her lee rail deep under the rolling waves. Quickly there came a change in the marine picture, for the Vanitie hove to and while sails snapped and spilled the wind, the crew was seen to be rushing about the steeply slanted deck. The yachtmen hurriedly adjusted their marine glasses, searching for sail or tackle that they felt sure had torn loose.

It proved to be a far more serious matter, for Alexander Cochran's yacht had lost two of her crew overboard and the seamen could be faintly seen far astern, struggling to keep afloat in the rolling, foaming wake of the sloop. There was a rush of steamers and tugs in the direction of the distressed men, Alex Johnson and Oscar Olson. They were having hard work to keep up and were exhausted when finally picked up, one by the tug John J. Timmins and the other by the Vanitie.

Aside from the temporary effects of the immersion, however, neither seaman suffered from the thrilling experience, but the race, so far as applied right away would have killed those few germs and kept these millions from being born. To have a box of this salve ready for emergencies, ask for Dr. Bell's Antiseptic Salve.

the Vanitie was concerned, was literally lost and soon the Cochran yacht was headed for Glen Cove, while the Resolute swung around the mark and completed the course a winner without opposition.

BAD WEATHER IS CAUSE OF POSTPONEMENT

Of All But One Game in Major Leagues—Fine Weather Since May 13.

New York, June 5.—After nearly three weeks of almost uninterrupted fair weather, major league baseball encountered inclement conditions unusual to June Thursday, with the result that in the two senior organizations only one game was played—the Chicago-Cleveland American League game at Chicago.

With two exceptions, Thursday's were the only postponements of big league games since May 13, the clubs for the most part having been favored with conditions ideal for the game from mid-May to date, after an unusually cold and stormy early season. The two interim postponements were on May 27, when the Brooklyn Nationals were unable to play at Pittsburgh and the Chicago-New York American League game at the Polo Grounds likewise was postponed because of a heavy shower.

Double-headers, necessitated by the early postponements had been pretty well played off in the American League and considerable progress in the same direction has been made in the National, when today's general rain came to start the double-bill program all over again.

Minor leagues in the East were afflicted alike with the majors yesterday, only one International League game being possible, while the entire schedules of the Eastern Association and New York State Leagues were rendered void for the day.

MEAT INJURIOUS TO THE KIDNEYS

Take a tablespoonful of Salts if Back Hurts or Bladder bothers—Meat forms uric acid.

We are a nation of meat eaters and our blood is filled with uric acid, says a well-known authority, who warns us to be constantly on guard against kidney trouble.

The kidneys do their utmost to free the blood of this irritating acid, but become weak from the overwork; they get sluggish; the eliminative tissues clog and thus the waste is retained in the blood to poison the entire system.

When your kidneys ache and feel like lumps of lead, and you have stinging pains in the back or the urine is cloudy, full of sediment, or the bladder is irritable, obliging you to seek relief during the night, when you have severe headache, nervous and dizzy spells, sleeplessness, acid stomach or rheumatism in bad weather, get from your pharmacist about four ounces of Jad Salts; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast each morning and in a few days your kidneys will act fine. This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to flush and stimulate clogged kidneys, to neutralize the acids in uric acid so it is no longer a source of irritation, thus ending urinary and bladder disorders.

Jad Salts is inexpensive and cannot injure; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink, and nobody can make a mistake by taking a little occasionally to keep the kidneys clean and active.

Marrying Into The Same Work.

"I suppose you have heard the latest engagement," said the Bachelor as he dropped into a comfortable chair on the piazza.

"No, whose?" idly inquired the Bachelor Girl.

"Bert Warren's. He's going to marry Louis Stewart."

"Hm!" mused the Bachelor Girl. "Two artists. I wonder how long before there'll be a divorce."

"Is that sure to follow when artists marry?"

"It seems so. They are not always artists of the brush. Nearly all the writers I know who married writers are divorced. And the same is true with musicians."

"Eccentricities of genius, I suppose."

"They usually say its temperament, but privately, I think it is temper. Mr. Scribbler asks Mrs. Scribbler what she thinks of his new poem. She glances over it and answers indifferently, 'There's not much in it.' Whereat, he either considers she has poor taste or bad judgment, or else his feelings are hurt. At any rate, he feels sore and he nurses the feeling. Or she hands him a story for his opinion and he says the plot is weak or the character delineation bad, at which she is peeved. And when this goes on for several months or a year and the sore feeling grows, some day there is a grand explosion that blows them apart."

"Yet you would think they could be of great help to each other," mused the Bachelor.

"They could be, if they would. The criticism of one who understands your work because he is doing the same work himself and has studied for it ought to be vastly helpful. A musician could give points on technique, an artist on composition or color, a writer on structure. Imagine a musician shut up in a house with a wife who doesn't understand a sharp from a flat; or a writer, with a husband who doesn't know whether Carlyle wrote cook books or hints on health! Surely a companion who could enter into your work with understanding and appreciation would mean a lot more to you. But conceit or inability to stand criticism gets the upper hand, and so they cut out of their life that which might be very helpful."

"Choosing the right wife is getting to be a more and more serious problem, isn't it?" observed the Bachelor, with pretended gravity. "You not only have to consider all the qualities that have hitherto been looked upon as essential but you have to ponder now the question of occupation. I don't wonder the marriage rate is being lowered."

"With the coming of this new problem perhaps there will eventually be evolved some rules for solving it, such as, physicians should not marry physician. Trained nurses are better. Tailors should avoid dressmakers. A grand opera singer would make the home brighter. A farmer's daughter should not choose a farmer's son. A banker would afford more diversion, and so on."

"When you decide what to be, let me know," said the Bachelor. Ingratiatingly, "and I'll choose the exact opposite."

"I might change," laughed the Bachelor Girl, "and then see what a predicament you would be in."

"I am willing to take all the risks," protested the Bachelor.

But the Bachelor Girl had lost interest in the subject and refused to pursue it farther.

TEACHERS MAY DECIDE TO ENTER LOCAL POLITICS

In a meeting held by Newark grade and High school teachers at 4 o'clock Thursday afternoon in the High school building it was determined a committee of five should be appointed to confer relative to forming a "closer association." This committee will make its report at a general meeting of teachers Monday afternoon at 4 o'clock in the High school.

The meeting Thursday afternoon was not attended by a big representation of grade teachers, but nearly all High school instructors were present. Several short talks were made by those interested and the general tone of the gathering was that something should be done to obtain an increase in pay. Some expressed the doubt that the board of education could obtain funds for greater increases than have been allowed each preceding year, and others made it known that they would join in any movement that had as its object the salary increase by peaceful means.

One speaker said the situation might be better handled by conservatism coupled with the knowledge that there are something like 125 teachers in Newark, each of whom could control a following of ten or fifteen votes.

It was finally determined to appoint three of the grade teachers and two of the High school corps to serve on the investigating committee and report.

Most men can stand success a lot better than they can stand someone else's.

S. S. ASSOCIATION STATE SECRETARY DOES GOOD WORK

E. L. Barrett of Springfield, treasurer of the Ohio Sunday School Association, and for 25 years member of its executive committee is authority for the statement that when State Secretary C. W. Shinn reports to the State convention at Youngstown, June 16, 17 and 18 that the Ohio Sunday School Association is out of debt, it will be the first time this has been true in a quarter of a century.

It is a fact that Mr. Shinn, one of the youngest men who ever has had charge of the state work, was able to wipe out completely in two years the debt which has been 25 years in accumulating.

In recognition of this fact, and the further one that Mr. Shinn is to leave the association to accept a more remunerative position in Toledo, arrangements are being made to present him with a medal in testimonial of the work he has done.

The executive committee is quietly engaged in endeavoring to locate a successor for Mr. Shinn, but it is doubtful if this will have been accomplished before the meeting at Youngstown.

Never before have the business affairs of the Sunday school work been in such prosperous shape. In addition to paying all operating expenses in the two years of his incumbency Mr. Shinn collected and paid off $12,000 in obligations which were held by banks. Because of this achievement there has been a disposition in some quarters to criticize the acceptance of Mr. Shinn's resignation.

WHAT THE EYES TELL.

When the under arch of the upper eyelid is a perfect semicircle it is indicative of goodness, but also of timidity, sometimes approaching cowardice.

Eyes placed close together in the head are said to indicate pettiness of disposition, jealousy and a touch of fault finding. They are also said to show a deceitful nature.

Wide open, staring eyes in weak countenances indicate pertinacity with firmness; jealousy, bigotry and intolerance.

All men of genius are said to have eyes clear, slow moving and bright. This is the eye which indicates mental ability of some kind, it does not matter what.

Eyes of which the whole of the iris is visible belong to erratic persons, often with a tendency toward insanity.

Eyes that are wide apart are said by physiognomists to indicate intelligence and memory.

Dark eyes are usually associated with depth of feeling and a strong, emotional nature.

Hazel eyes are uncommon and betoken refinement of character, artistic tastes and a love of the beautiful.

Deep set eyes are generally significant of a tenacious and reserved disposition, which is not easily influenced by circumstances.

TWENTY-FIFTH ANNIVERSARY OF G.L.A. TO B. OF L.E.

The twenty-fifth or silver anniversary of the founding of Division 41, of the Grand International Auxiliary to the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers was celebrated by the organization on Thursday, and a number of visitors were present from Columbus, Chicago Junction, Wheeling, W. Va., and Zanesville. Among the prominent members of the order who were present was the National Grand Vice President, Mrs. M. E. Cassel of Columbus.

In the afternoon a meeting was held in the Engineer's Hall and a number of addresses were delivered by the visitors. In the evening at 7 o'clock a banquet was served in Assembly Hall. The hall was prettily arranged with the colors of the twin organizations, red, white and blue and purple, and at one end had been placed a large banner bearing the word "Welcome." The balcony was arranged in pink and white. The honor table was centered with a basket filled with pink and white roses and pink and white peonies were used. A two course chicken dinner was served.

Following the dinner a reception was held, the receiving line containing the presidents of the organizations, the charter members of Division 41 and prominent visitors and following this a number of talks were given.

The address of welcome was given by the president of Division 41 of the Auxiliary, Mrs. J. O. Mitchell, and was responded to by Mr. Cassel, chief of Division 35 of the B. of L. E. Mrs. Joseph Robe spoke on the work accomplished by the auxiliary and gave a short history of its organization and results. Then the honored visitor, Mrs. Cassel, in a delightful way told of what had been done by the state and nation as organized in the auxiliary and brotherhood. Mr. Bell of Chicago spoke on the brotherhood and W. W. Puckett, salaried chairman of the railway trainmen delivered an enthusiastic talk on the "trainman" in general. The program concluded with Mr. Joseph Robe calling upon Mr. John Francis, the oldest E. and O. engineer, and presenting him with a badge of honor which is given for a membership of 40 years in the brotherhood. Mr. Robe reviewed the wonderful work done by Mr. Francis and told how all honored and revered him.

Mrs. Mitchell, president of the Newark Division, presented Mrs. Cassel, the grand vice president with a large cake frosted in white with the dates 1889-1914 done in silver. The cake was baked by Miss Mildred Robe. The members of the division of the auxiliary then presented the charter members, Mrs. J. Connors, Mrs. Robe, Mrs. F. M. Howard, Mrs. Baguley, Mrs. Huffman, Mrs. George, Mrs. Anderson, Mrs. Snook, and Mrs. Powell, with silver spoons.

At the conclusion of the program the evening was given over to dancing, the program being furnished by the Fields' orchestra.

BUST OF LINCOLN CARVED BY JONES OF LICKING CO.

One of the most valuable works of art in the state capital is the bust of Lincoln that stands in the rotunda of the state house, and its still more interesting pedestal says J. H. Galbraith in the Columbus Dispatch. It is the work of Thomas D. Jones, a native of Licking county. As the name indicates, he was a Welshman, and his father a farmer of the "Welsh Hills" district in Licking county. He began carving stone as an ordinary stone-cutter, and from this fact he has been called the inspired stone-cutter. Native ability with but little training made him a bust sculptor of high rank, and besides the Lincoln Bust he produced busts of Stanton, Seward, Chase and other noted men of war time.

Visitors are usually more interested in the carving on the pedestal of the memorial, representing the surrender of Vicksburg by General Pemberton to General Grant, July 4, 1863, said to be historically correct in its principal features. The minute tracing of the foliage of the trees, the folds in the clothing of the men, and the pose of the horses are remarkable specimens of the work of the sculptor. Below are words of Lincoln, used so often in support of liberal pension policies: "Care for him who shall have borne the battle, and for his widow and his orphans."

The memorial was unveiled July 19, 1870. For some time while Jones was working on the Memorial he occupied a room on the third floor of the capitol, over the High street entrance, which is now used by the traveling library department of the state library, and there are many men in middle life in Columbus today who as boys, used to peep cautiously into that room where the curious-looking old man was chiseling away at his masterpiece. Jones was a man of distinguished appearance—a full beard, long hair, massive features, and a Herculean form, making him look at that time something like the poet, William Cullen Bryant, in his last days.

Like most artists, Jones fought the wolf at the door through most of his life, and his last days were his neediest. He was born December 12, 1811 and died in Columbus, February 27, 1881.

DELICIOUS WAYS

TO SERVE BANANAS.

All who appreciate bananas in cookery may like to try the following recipes: For banana porridge mix one tablespoonful of cornstarch with a little cold milk; then pour over it one pint of boiling milk and stir in six mashed bananas. Pour into a lined saucepan, add sugar to taste and boil for five minutes, stirring all the time. Turn into porridge plates and serve very hot.

To make curried bananas soak one teaspoonful of fresh or desiccated coconut in the same measure of milk for one hour. Peel and cut into large cubes five fine bananas, fry these in butter, sprinkle with curry powder and remove on to a hot plate. Put the soaked coconut and any milk that has not been absorbed into the frying pan, add a dash of cayenne pepper and anchovy sauce, a teaspoonful of meat sauce and mix well. Beat an egg, stir it into the sauce, lay the curried bananas in the pan and cook until they are thoroughly hot. The contents of the pan must not boil after the egg has been added. Serve with the usual curry accompaniments of boiled rice and chutney.

Banana and prune trifle may be made by filling a deep crystal bowl with alternate slices of bananas, stoned prunes and fresh sponge fingers. Add a sufficiency of any approved wine flavoring; then fill the bowl with custard and pile whipped cream on top. The spaces left in the prunes after the removal of the stones may be filled with blanched almonds or chopped nuts.

Spinach and bananas sound odd. To make it wash two pounds of spinach and cook for twenty minutes; then pass through a sieve. Add one ounce of butter, season with pepper and salt and pile in the center of an entree dish. Peel four bananas, divide them into quarters, dip each piece in beaten egg; then roll in fine breadcrumbs flavored with coriander pepper. Fry in deep boiling fat and arrange the golden brown fritters around the spinach and serve.

To make banana and jelly trifle warm a pint of lemon jelly and flavor it with maraschino or sherry. Peel six bananas and arrange them at the bottom of a glass dish, pour the lukewarm jelly over and when set decorate with whipped cream and glace cherries.

A new sighting arrangement, called the focometric telescope, is to be a feature of the French heavy artillery. The new telescope is attached to the gun, and enables the whole horizon to be seen by the gunner.

The girls were not compelled to go to school. The school went to them. For three hours every day they were taught in the factory in batches, and while they studied their pay went on. ### RETIRED ENGINEER IS PRESENTED WITH A BADGE OF HONOR

Newark honors many of her older citizens who have stepped aside for a well earned rest after a life of fervent endeavor and among those who have left the strenuous workaday life, John Francis, 72, B. and O. engineer, who was retired about two weeks ago, none is better known.

Mr. Francis was honored on Thursday evening by the Brotherhood of Engineers when the organization presented him with the badge of honor showing over 40 years honorable service in the organization.

Mr. Francis has been employed on the railroad over 50 years. He was a native of Athens being born there in 1842. He lived on the old Marietta and Cincinnati road until 1867. He also worked on the Big Four and then took a position on the Chicago Burlington and Quincy. In 1888 when the great strike troubles arose, Mr. Francis climbed down from his engine and gave up a splendid position for the cause he thought was right. He came to Newark and engaged with the B. and O. for which road he worked until about two weeks ago when at the age of 72 years he was honorably retired.

You can turn gray, faded hair beautifully dark and lustrous almost overnight if you'll get a 50-cent bottle of "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy" at any drug store. Millions of bottles of this old, famous Sage Tea Recipe are sold annually, says a well known druggist here, because it darkens the hair so naturally and evenly that no one can tell it has been applied.

TRACHOMA IS PREVALENT IN WEST VIRGINIA.

(Associated Press Telegram)

Washington, June 5.—Trachoma is widely prevalent in West Virginia, and in southwestern Virginia, according to the public health service in a report on its investigations of the disease in these states. In West Virginia trachoma prevails to such an extent it is stated, as to make it one of the serious public health problems of the state. Inspections were made by public health service officers in 23 counties in West Virginia when 20,848 persons were examined among whom 340 cases of trachoma were found and of the 801 persons examined in 10 counties in Virginia 108 had the disease. The examinations were confined almost exclusively to school children. Efforts to suppress it is urged, the necessity for which is indicated by the large percentage of vision damaged in the cases.

WILL DEDICATE A NEW TEMPLE THIS EVENING

Hon. C. J. Pretzman, of Columbus, worthy grand master of Ohio Masons, and other officers of the grand lodge, will be in charge of the dedication of the new temple of Center Star Lodge, No. 11, F. & A. M., which will take place tonight in Granville. It is expected many Newark masons will attend the dedication.

Among the distinguished visitors will be Past Grand Master Louis P. Schaus and District Lecturer Charles C. Iams, both of Mt. Vernon. Hon. Leon R. Taylor, former governor of New Jersey, and a member of Center Star Lodge, will be present for the occasion.

The exercises will begin at 6:30 o'clock and a banquet will be served in the lodge room following the dedicatory services.

Center Star lodge began work under dispensation in 1810, with Job Case as master. In January, 1813, the charter was issued by Henry Brush, grand master of Ohio, and James Kilbourne, deputy grand master.

The first meeting, back in 1810, was held in the upper east chamber of Esquire Elias Cushman's house, a small room, 14½ by 9 feet and 19 inches in floor dimensions. The house is now owned by Chi Psi Delta sorority of Shepards College and bears a bronze tablet with an inscription denoting it as the first home of Center Star lodge. The second lodge room was in the third story of a brick school house which stood on the hill side at the head of Main street.

Total enrollment of the lodge up to June 6, includes 639 names.

BROTHER KILLED BY ACCIDENT AT LEBANON, IND.

While Mr. and Mrs. C. G. Hill of 26 Charles street were discussing the promised visit of the latter's brother, Thursday evening, a messenger boy rapped at the door and handed Mr. Hill a telegram from Lebanon, Ind., which read "Jack was accidentally killed this evening." He was the brother of whom they were talking at the time of receiving the message.

John Pell, Mrs. Hill's brother, was aged about fifty years. He was born in the Hoosier state and for years was a prosperous farmer and stock raiser, retiring several years ago to Lebanon, Ind., to enjoy the fruits of his labors, having accumulated much of this world's goods. Mr. and Mrs. Pell promised to return the visit this summer and would have shortly arrived in Newark. Mr. Pell is survived by his widow and four sisters. The funeral will be held Sunday and Mr. and Mrs. Hill will leave this evening to be present.

IF SKIN BREAKS OUT AND ITCHES APPLY SULPHUR

Use it like a cold cream and dry Eczema eruptions right up.

The moment you apply bold-sulphur to an itching or broken out skin, the itching stops and healing begins, says a renowned dermatologist.

This remarkable sulphur made into a thick cream effects such prompt relief, even in aggravated Eczema, that it is a never-ending source of amazement to physicians.

For many years bold-sulphur has occupied a secure position in the treatment of cutaneous eruptions by reason of its cooling, parasite-destrorying properties and nothing has ever been found to take its place in relieving irritable and inflammatory affections of the skin. While not always establishing a permanent cure, yet, in every instance, it immediately subdues the itching irritation and heals the Eczema right up and it is often years later before any eruption again manifests itself.

Any good pharmacist will supply an ounce of bold-sulphur cream, which should be applied to the affected parts like the ordinary cold creams. It is not unpleasant and the prompt relief afforded is very welcome, particularly when the Eczema is accompanied with torturous itching.

"FERGY'S" EXPERIENCE IN FIGHTING THE TENT CATERPILLAR

Frank L. Ferguson, former Advocate reporter, now a thrifty and prominent farmer and stock raiser and city editor of the Petoskey, Mich., Evening News and Reporter, has been troubled with caterpillars, that is technically speaking his orchards have been. One of the Petoskey papers had this to say of "Fergy's" experience:

P. L. Ferguson, of the Evening News, has had his first experience fighting tent caterpillars. Mr. Ferguson was inspecting one of his orchards when he discovered that the trees were in possession of the caterpillars. At first he did not realize what he was up against but he was soon enlightened when he found the pests engaged in building their nests. There were millions of them, it seemed to the newspaper man, and all of them were working as though they were in a hurry to finish building their nests in order that they might commence the work of devastating the foliage of the trees.

Ferguson secured a long iron rod, around the end of which he wrapped about a bale of waste with wire and then thoroughly saturated it with kerosene. This he lighted and then waded through the orchard, a veritable pillar of fire, destroying all in his way, and it is safe to say that when he finished there were but few of the pests left.

Many complaints are being made of the ravages of these most insatiable pests. In some cases there are small orchards that seem to be on the way to complete destruction from the pests. They cover the limbs of trees and appear to be taking every particle of their life. That which is most to be regretted in connection with such conditions is that this loss could have been avoided if the orchard owners had been timely and active in their efforts to prevent it. In some sections the caterpillars' nests have extended to the woods and here and there trees can be seen that are almost completely covered.

A SUMMER FROCK DANSANT.

Even when the summer days grow warm the craze for dancing is not to subside, say the prophets of style. A dupe frock like this will fulfill all the requirements. A simple under part of blue tulle crape makes a cool foundation, while the blouse and tunic of tulle and lace give the note of sheerness that is needed for the tango gown. Yellow roses outline the tunic.

Land Leeches of Ceylon.

Beautiful Ceylon has mosquitoes said to be the most adroit and audacious in the world and snakes and a thousand more plagues of poor human beings, but the worst of them all is a species of leech. The Ceylon land leech is a thin creature about two inches long and very nimble and flexible. It will crawl up a man's leg and, traveling underneath the clothing, will climb as high as the throat. These leeches do not crawl like the leeches that are known to medicine, but rear themselves up on their tails to watch for prey and walk off to attack it with amazing rapidity. In walking through the jungle hosts of them may be seen by the roadside, where they wait to victimize cattle. Horses, it is said, are driven half wild by them, as also are palanquin bearers and coolies, whose bare legs are their favorite resort, the men's hands being too engaged to pull them off. The leeches may be seen hanging round their ankles, from which tiny trickles of blood run over the foot.—London Standard.

One of His Own Books.
At the height of his vogue Dumas could not turn out his tales fast enough to satisfy his clamoring publishers, and it became necessary for him to employ collaborators, to whom he sketched the plot, perhaps, leaving them to do the rest. Among the most distinguished was Paul Meurice.

Thus it came about that Meurice was the author of one of the most amusing novels of Dumas. Dumas when traveling found this novel in a hotel and opened it to pass away the time. He began reading it seriously, got interested in it and was amused. Presently some one came to his room and found him with his own book in his hand. "I am reading," said Dumas in response to a question, "a novel of my own which I did not know and which pleases me vastly."

"It was Dumas who said when left to himself, 'I am never bored when I have my own company.'"—New York Tribune.

Astronomically Speaking.

Before he became a newspaper man James S. Black was a collector in Flagstaff for awhile. He was given a bill against Director Lowell of the observatory and tramped up the long hill from the town to see the astronomer one hot June morning when the mountain sun blazed its hottest. Arrived at the top, Black inquired of an attendant if Lowell was there. After the manner of collectors he followed up a negative answer with inquiries as to his probable return. "Will he be back this afternoon?" "No." "Will he be back tomorrow?" "No." "Will he be back next day?" The attendant couldn't say. "Well," said Black, getting desperate, "do you know when he will be back?" "Oh, he'll be back for the transit of Venus!" said the attendant. "That flushed it," said Black in telling the story. The Selfish Skipper.
"I will not stop to tow you off. I have fish aboard."

This was the answer returned by the captain of a fishing steamer to the signal of distress from a pilot boat on the rocks at the entrance of the Golden Gate. No one will deny that it was a heartless answer, but it is an answer that is being constantly given in all the relations of life. All around pilot boats are on the rocks or suffering pain, but the fishing boat sails by unheeding because it has fish aboard and has no time to stop and throw out a towline. How many fishing boats there are that refuse a word of kindness and counsel, a friendly hand, a smile of encouragement! How many fishing boats there are that are blind, deaf or indifferent to the hopes, aspirations and struggles of those who are on the rocks!

"We can't stop. We have fish on board."—Portland (Ore.) Journal.

They Convinced Him.
There was a Russian writer who disapproved of so many things in connection with the management of his native country that he got himself into serious trouble with the authorities. He persisted in pointing out their defects, and at last they got so exasperated that they decided to hang him, and he was duly sentenced to death by one of the governors he had criticized.
Three times they tried to hang him, and three times the rope broke.
The worried hangman postponed the execution while he went to talk things over with the governor.
"What did he say when the rope broke the third time?" asked the governor.
"He said that it was just what might be expected in Russia," replied the hangman—"that we couldn't even hang a man properly."

The enraged governor turned in a fury to the hangman. "Convince him that he is wrong!" he shouted.
So the hangman went back to the condemned man and convinced him.

Sailing Wheelbarrows.
The sailing wheelbarrows of China are a sight to delight the eyes of an old sail stranded inland, particularly in the Shenai district, where mile long processions of these queer vehicles may be met with. Wheelbarrow transportation would be almost impossible in this district, due to the blown sand, were it not for the ingeniously devised sails. Night and day for months at a stretch without ceasing the wind blows steadily from west to east at an average velocity of more than fifteen miles an hour. Luckily this chance to be the direction of the country's produce transportation, so that the heaviest laden of the barrow craft are able to "make port" with a fair wind. A wind "dead astern," however, is by no means absolutely necessary, for by ingeniously contrived supports on the sides of the barrows the sails may be set to take advantage of almost every slant of breeze.—Popular Mechanics.

Daudet's Romance.
The novelist, Alphonse Daudet, had determined to remain a bachelor, because he was afraid that if he made a wrong step in marriage he might dull his imagination. He has given expression to his fear in the "Femmes d'Artistes" and more particularly in the tale "Madame Heurthisse," with which the volume opens. But, on being introduced to Mlle. Julie Allard, who loved literature and was herself a charming writer and critic, his fear was removed. The union proved a very happy one, and the picture of the two at work is an attractive bit of biography.

Once, it is related, he had a sentimental and dramatic scene with his wife, concerning which he remarked: "This seems, my dear, like a chapter that has slipped out of a novel." "It is more likely," Alphonse," was the reply, "to form a chapter that will slip into one!"

Teeth of the Muskellunge.
Along toward the middle of July a curious thing happens to the muskellunge. His teeth fall out. A sort of piscatorial Riggs's disease seems to attack him. Naturally, he loses flesh in the toothless season, and his inability to enjoy any of the good things that swim about him increases the savagery of his temper.

With the coming of September he has cut an entire new set of teeth, and they are like knife blades set up on edge in his jaws. Then he takes on new vigor, voraciousness and aggressiveness, with the memory of weeks of pentup fury and unappeased appetite to avenge. And then comes the angler's best opportunity with him.—Detroit Free Press.

Ferry Tolls on the Tigris.
At one ferry on the Tigris river the toll is as follows: For a poor Arab, 2 cents; for a prosperous Arab, 4 cents; for a soldier, 10 cents; for a pilgrim, 20 cents; for a European, 80 cents. The scale of prices for nearly everything along the way is similar. But many of the Arabs are so poor that they prefer to swim across in the ancient manner. They bind several old gourds together and then, sitting upon them, paddle their way along.—Christian Herald.

Has No Prejudice But Strong Convictions Against Bleaching Hair.

HAIR PROBLEMS OF MIDDLE AGE. —PART I.

Nice hair, attractively arranged, will redeem a plain face, and this is never so true as when the years are passing. Between 35 and 40 the critical years. Watch the hair carefully. Is the hair line retreating, or the hair growing thin about the face? Is the parting becoming broader? Is the hair changing in color, either growing darker or faded as a preliminary to turning gray? While no natural means of preserving and increasing the hair growth should be neglected, this is the time when artifice may be necessary and can be applied with good results.

Why Hair Changes in Color.

Color, abundance, texture and gloss determine the beauty of the hair. The color is due to the proportion of the different chemicals in the pigmentation. For instance, blond hair is rich in oxygen and sulphur; brown hair has a large proportion of carbon, which increases as the hair turns darker. We find that red hair derives its color from the large amount of iron in the coloring pigment. As the coloring matter in the hair follicles lessens the hair becomes faded and finally gray. As time goes on the change to white hair is aided by a deposit of phosphate of lime in the hair roots. Hair that has been bright in youth, blond, red or a warm chestnut, is apt to darken after thirty. When this occurs many women feel a strong temptation to bleach or "touch up" the hair. The argument is that to do such is merely to restore the hair to its natural color and should not be regarded as bleaching or dyeing.

Wife I have no prejudice against bleaching or tinting the hair I have a strong conviction that in most cases the operation is not a success. I am speaking now of blond hair that has turned dark. I am going to give you my reasons and hope that they will aid any women debating this problem to decide rightly.

The Woman Who Has Been Blond.

Pure blond hair in the Anglo Saxon race is generally a privilege of childhood. At adolescence the coloring matter in the hair roots undergoes a certain chemical change and the hair becomes darker, often a distinct brown. In some cases this change does not occur until womanhood, but it is always due to a corresponding change in the coloring matters affecting the hair roots and nothing put on the hair can prevent it. The only remedy is to dye or bleach the hair, remembering that this will not affect the new hair as it grows out from the scalp. The usual bleach for blond hair is peroxide of hydrogen. This is absolutely harmless as far as the scalp and general health is concerned—in fact it is often used for scalp diseases—but its continual use is very bad for the hair itself. It will render it brittle and harsh, taking away the natural oil and giving it a dead, lifeless appearance.

As the Hair Turns Gray.

The use of so drying an agent as peroxide or peroxide mixed with one-third ammonia which is the usual application, will tend to premature graying of the hair. When this point arrives peroxide is useless, for it will not cover up gray hair. A dye must now be resorted to, one that will make the hair darker and generally quite unlike in color what the hair ever was naturally. That is why most blonds who tamper with their hair finish with having a most unnatural and artificial appearance.

This is added to by the fact that as the hair roots have turned darker there is a corresponding change in the complexion and eyebrows. The latter difficult can be overcome by slightly bleaching the eyebrows, but it is not so easy to bring the complexion into accord. Artificial blond hair is trying to the skin and a complexion that would look rosy and attractive in a frame of brown hair appears blousy and uneven when the hair is bleached. Women who bleach the hair have to use more "make up," put it on more carefully and more often, than do women who keep the hair its natural tone. For it is not only the hair roots that grow out they must be continually retouched. You see that bleaching the hair is not a simple proposition.

Chicago Markets.

[Associated Press Telegram]

Chicago, June 5.—Although the wheat market showed some firmness at the outset, prices later were inclined to sag. Reports of delayed seeding in Argentina with a prospect of a smaller acreage there led to considerable buying but the favorable weather in the winter belt gradually assumed greater influence. Besides, the Ohio state report was bullish, and a sharp decline was reported at Budapest. Quotations which started 1-3 off to 1-3 1-4 up hardened a little and then fell below last night's level all around. Higher cables gave corn a temporary lift. Weakness ensued, however, when wheat turned down grade. After opening a shade to 1-4 @ 1-5 up and the advance was lost and a little more. Rains eased the oats market. Notwithstanding a rise in the hog market provisions suffered a setback speculative offerings were on a liberal scale.

Lacking initiative of its own, the home market followed the lead of London New Haven and Canadian lost nearly a point each.

GEO. MAYTHERSY DECAPITATED AT THE F. O. TOWER

George Maythersy, aged 28, of Mingo Junction, O., was decapitated when he fell under the wheels of a Pennsylvania freight train near F. O. tower just east of Newark at 4 o'clock Thursday afternoon. Both arms were cut off and the body was otherwise badly mangled.

A companion of Maythersy was arrested and is held in the city prison on a charge of train riding.

According to the dead man's companion, the two were stealing a ride to Columbus. As the train was coming into the Newark yards near F. O. tower Maythersy was struck by a water pipe which extended out from the side of the track, and was thrown from the train. His body rolled under the wheels and he was instantly killed. His companion jumped off the train and notified the tower man. Bradley & Co. had the body picked up the remains and took it to their morgue. An effort was made to communicate with the man's relatives and Friday morning a telegram came from John Maythersy, the dead man's father, Gould, O., instructing the undertakers to ship the body to Mingo Junction, which was done at noon.

The dead man is survived by his parents and four brothers.

W. N. FULTON

lived and to whom he left the memory of an honored name and a highly successful career.

The funeral will take place from the late home at 2 o'clock Sunday afternoon, Rev. Don D. Tullis pastor of the Second Presbyterian church, conducting the services. Interment will be made in Cedar Hill cemetery.

The pall bearers selected are to be Judge T. B. Fulton, Dr. J. A. Mitchell, W. C. Miller and three sons-in-law, J. R. Fitzgibbon, James K. Hamill and John S. W. Holloway of Winchester, Ky.

William Newlon Fulton, second son of Robert Fulton and Keziah Newlon, was born in Westmoreland county, Pennsylvania, January 23, 1841. The family, of Scotch-Irish ancestry, was of the same stock as that which produced Robert Fulton, the inventor of the steamboat and the Americans who control the Baltimore American. The direct ancestors of William Newlon Fulton came to America from Londonderry to Pennsylvania before the Revolutionary war.

From Westmoreland county where Mr. Fulton was born, his parents moved to Washington, Pa., the seat of a well known college even at that early date, and Mr. Fulton received part of his early schooling in Washington. The family, Robert Fulton, his wife and their two boys, Henry and William Newlon came to Licking county as pioneers, when the lads were very young, but returned temporarily to Pennsylvania by reason of the illness of Mr. Fulton's mother. When Henry was twelve and William Newlon Fulton was ten, Robert Fulton again emigrated to Ohio and settled on a farm near Homer, Ohio. There in the little village the boys grew up to young manhood, and there their father died at the age of 20. When the Civil war broke out and Lincoln called for volunteers, both the Fulton boys attempted to go to the front. Henry, the eldest, was taken. He was killed in battle after he had been promoted to commission rank, in a skirmish near Ringgold, W. Va.

Young "Newlon," as he was called in youth in Homer, and throughout his long residence in Newark, was sent back by the recruiting officers, under the rule that barred enlisting the younger son of a widow who had one son already at the front.

He remained in Homer during his young manhood and there met and married Belle Sibby, the widow who survives him after a wedded life of nearly fifty years. Eight children came to bless the pair, of whom seven survive, and five are residents of Licking county, in which Mr. and Mrs. Fulton have lived their lives from childhood. Mr. Fulton ran the family farm at Homer for a dozen years after the close of the war, and three of the eight children were born there.

From Homer the Fulton family moved to where Mr. Fulton engaged variously in contracting and building and in the hard wood timber business in which he was always more or less concerned up to the time of his death. For two or three years the family resided upon a large farm near Alexandria which Mr. Fulton purchased from the late Hiram Warden. Returning to Newark, Mr. Fulton continued in his contracting and hard wood lumber interests, and his name was as well known in New York, Boston and European connection with black walnut exports, as it is here in Newark.

A Democrat in politics, Mr. Fulton was elected treasurer of Licking county for several terms and in that position became friends with most of the tax-payers of Licking county. He was an officer and later president of the People's National bank and later president of the Licking County bank from which he retired as advancing years came upon him. He was the first president of the Pan-American Coal Mining company and retained that office in the newly consolidated corporation to the time of his death.

Mr. Fulton was a life-long member of the Presbyterian church and has been a communicant and officer during most of his life in Newark, of the Second Presbyterian church. Mr. Fulton's parents rest in Cedar Hill cemetery as does his brother Henry, the soldier, and his oldest daughter, Maude, (Mrs. Percy Seabrook).

The surviving children are Harry Selby, Robert G. Fulton, Mrs. Jane Fulton, Mrs. Mrs. James King Hamill, Mrs. James R. Fitzgibbon, Miss Grace Fulton, and Mrs. John S. W. Holloway of Winchester, Ky.

After coming to Licking county in early life, and settling in Burlington township, Mr. Fulton became familiar with the duties and labors that fall to the lot of the agriculturist. The country schools afforded him some educational privileges and in early manhood he purchased a farm near Homer, paying for it with his own labor. Later however, he abandoned the plow and turned his attention to merchandising in Homer, becoming the proprietor of a dry goods store and also establishing a lumber yard there. He prospered in his commercial undertakings and thinking to find a broader field of labor in Newark, he removed to this city in 1873 and began purchasing suburban real estate direct, chasing his energies toward speculative building. He improved much property, erecting at that time thirty houses and in addition to his building operations he engaged in the lumber business.

His fellow townsmen recognizing in him a citizen of worth called him to public office, entrusting to him the care of the public funds, when in 1877 they elected him county treasurer. He served for two terms of two years each and retired from office as he had entered it, with the confidence and good will of all.

Mr. Fulton then resumed the pursuits of private life and in 1882, with others, organized the People's National Bank, Mr. Fulton being elected vice president. Later he succeeded to the presidency and continued as chief executive officer of that institution for 15 years. His sound business judgment and discriminating ability, being strong elements in the success of the bank. During the same period, Mr. Fulton was president of the Advocate Printing company for six or seven years. He was then re-elected to the position of county treasurer and once more served for two terms making eight years in all.

The fact that Mr. Fulton was called to the office by popular suffrage, four terms, was unmistakable evidence of the confidence reposed in him and the ability with which he discharged his duties. In 1902 he organized the Licking County bank of which he was elected president, continuing in the position until forced to retire about two years ago on account of ill health.

Mr. Fulton was a man of resourceful business ability, looking beyond the exigencies of the moment to the possibilities and opportunities of the future, and accomplishing what he undertook by reason of a strong, determined nature, and the employment of modern, progressive measures. He ever believed that honesty was the best policy and shaped his course in accordance with this old and time-tried maxim, his business reputation being unassailable.

In every relation of life in fact, W. N. Fulton was a man whom career might well consider an exemplar. His heart and mind were moved by kindly impulses, which took form in those acts which endeared him to so many, even outside the family circle, where he was always a loving husband, an indulgent parent, a wise counselor in whom the members had implicit trust, and full confidence.

Of his means he freely gave for the advancement of every enterprise that was of public nature, while his private benefactions were innumerable, but given in the quiet, unobtrusive manner, that only those who knew and felt the effects became cognizant, and even they in many cases did not know the author of this great help to human need.

A good citizen and a noble man has passed away in the death of W. N. Fulton.

TOMORROW IS "ROOSTER DAY"; GET AX READY

Columbus, O., June 5.—Tomorrow is "Rooster Day" and it will become "safety first" day in addition, according to announcement made today by S. E. Strode, state agricultural commissioner and head of the dairy and food division. For farmers and poultry raisers to kill their roosters may mean freedom from prosecution later in the summer for selling bad eggs.

"For the last two years we have conducted a campaign largely of education to induce egg producers and dealers to sell only good eggs," said Commissioner Strode. "Beginning this summer, however, we are going to prosecute every violator of the law which makes it an offense to sell tainted eggs."

Septimus Maurer, will be at the head of ten egg inspectors who will travel over Ohio this summer detecting violation of the good egg law. Tomorrow was proclaimed "Rooster Day" by Commissioner Strode and slaughter of mall birds are urged.

Many produce houses notified the department this week they are paying nine cents a pound for male birds, live weight, instead of six cents, the ordinary price at this time of year. They want to encourage farmers to kill their roosters so that the egg crop this summer will be better.

Every egg producer and dealer and every egg consumer will benefit by this "Rooster Day," wrote one commission merchant.

CANADIAN PAVILION AT THE PANAMA-PACIFIC INTERNATIONAL EXPOSITION.

H. S. Crocker Company, official photographers. Copyright, 1914, by Panama-Pacific International Exposition Company.

ARCHITECTS' PERSPECTIVE CANADIAN PAVILION, PANAMA-PACIFIC INTERNATIONAL EXPOSITION.

THE Canadian Pavilion at the Panama-Pacific International Exposition is being rushed to completion under the active direction of Colonel William Hutchinson, commissioner general from the Dominion of Canada, and will be finished by Oct. 1 of this year. Many of the exhibits are already on the way to San Francisco, and practically all will be installed in the pavilion before December.

Canada has appropriated $600,000 for its exhibit, and $200,000 of this amount is being expended upon the building, which will be one of the hand-somest and largest in the section devoted to the many participating countries.

It will contain reception halls, commissioners' rooms, great lecture halls, exhibit rooms and rest rooms and is located in one of the most advantageous positions upon the Exposition grounds.

Each of the provinces of Canada will be represented in the Dominion exhibit, and special space will be allotted to each to display its particular advantages. In addition to this combined exhibit, it is planned that several of the larger provinces will exhibit individually in the various departments of the Exposition in which their products excel. British Columbia, for example, is preparing a live stock exhibit which will be second to none at the Exposition.
